ACCESS 2000 standalone access control with creditcard

ZeitControl provides the admittance control system Access 2000 which allows the effective protection of doors against unauthorized access.

Access is only granted when authorized persons use a previously registered magnetic card or creditcards. If desired, the cards can be checked against a secret number (PIN).

Access 2000 is delivered in a small stable cast housing with a keypad, two LEDs and a built-in card reader. The power can be supplied by a standard door bell transformer; an electric door opener can be directly connected.

Access 2000 can be mounted and configured quickly and easily. It can store up to 500 magnetic cards. As keys, magnetic cards with LoCo magnetic bands and DIN/ISO compatible data on track 2, e. g. creditcards are used.

Access 2000 can thus be employed where sectors are only to be accessible to certain persons or groups of persons.
